Ride For The Cure

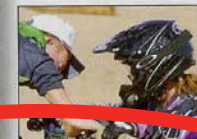

Riding motorcycles is awesome, but riding for a good cause is even better. And what better cause than breast cancer awareness month? In honor of this noble October charity, the third annual Ride for the Cure event went down at the massive Rynoland Motocross Training Facility in Anza, California. The event was a huge hit, with a raffle, a "bra parade" and a huge vendor row, with all proceeds being sent to a local cancer research center called Michelle's Place (www.michellesplace.org). Kawasaki also had a huge presence at the event, as a beginner's riding school was conducted for a few special guests. Here are some snapshots from the event:

Forget whales!

Even the really young bucks got a shot at riding.

Many dirt bike school participants were very first-timers.

The trails at Rynoland were epic as always.

Kawasaki assembled a crack squad of instructors to teach some private riding lessons.

Nice wings, kid.

Yes, that's Ryan Hughes in a pink bra.

CJ Hymas Rocks Big Sky XC

For the first time ever, Big Sky Resort opened its mountain to off-road motorcycles Saturday and Sunday, September 19 and 20, as the first annual Big Sky XC Presented by Klim took over the mountain.

CJ Hymas took home the weekend's top prize, an engraved rock taken directly from Lone Peak. This special award earned new meaning after many of the A riders struggled in the racecourse's uphill rock garden.

Big Sky Resort (www.bigskyresort.com) has already expressed interest in scheduling the 2010 Big Sky XC, possibly as a round of the AMA Western Hare Scrambles series. An upgraded website with loads of photos and information will be up at www.bigskyxc.com. —Joe Miller
